What can a Community Health Nurse do for you?
A Community Health Nurse can help you manage your long term medical condition. The Nurse can introduce services to come to your own home. They can then assist with ongoing monitoring and coordinating of these services. This includes people who live in a rooming house or Supported Residential Service (SRS).

They can also help you with advocacy by speaking for you, and providing you with help for your emotional and social needs.

The Community Health Nurse can help you with a personal alarm assessment.

For those waiting for a Home Care Package, the community nurse can provide support until you receive the package.

Do you have chronic health issue?
If you have chronic health issue, (or issues), that means a health condition that is long lasting and requires ongoing medical attention, then the community nurse can help you.

By working with you, the community nurse can help you manage your chronic health issue. This may help improve your health and wellbeing.

The community nurse can help you get access to community services through My Aged Care and any other services that you may need.

Where will the Community Health visit you?
Community Health Nurses visit people in their homes or provide phone based support on a needs basis. There is flexibility regarding visits depending on the needs of the client.

Who can come?
People over the age of 18 years who live in the City of Glen Eira, City of Stonnington, City of Port Phillip or City of Bayside (North of South Rd).

How can I access the service?
Referrals can be made by yourself, your doctor or health care professional by contacting Caulfield Access.
